Because it's about sex . . .

it's often 'laugh-out-loud' entertaining and fun!

Humor is a great way to loosen people up and lower defenses so we can talk about what needs to be talked about!

Because it's about conflict . . .

it'll get 'under your skin' and make you think!

So the way I look at conflict really matters? . . . Yup!

Because it's about alcohol . . .

it concerns 'how we treat ourselves' as well as how we treat each other!

"I never really thought about how much I drink when I'm out, until just now . . ."

Because it's about intimacy . . .

What is Nonviolent Sexuality? ... Good Question!

Actually, there are lots of answers to that question. Here are just a few to get you started:

- 1) A Campus Dialogue on Sex, Conflict, Alcohol & Intimacy
- 2) A 'Conflict-literate' approach to alcohol and sexual violence education.
- 3) Practical knowledge & principled wisdom, on a subject that most of us are uncomfortable discussing.
- 4) 'Safe Space' for people to learn and grow from the experience of conflict.
- 5) A program for EVERYONE on campus: Male & Female, Gay & Straight, Bi-Sexual and Transgendered.
- 6) Solid content, research-based, inclusive language, with a strategic use of humor, tastefully done.
- 7) What everyone needs to know about sex, conflict, alcohol and intimacy.

Nonviolent Sexuality is a presentation of: Learning To Live With Conflict, Inc.

Nonviolent Sexuality is one of the most engaging and effective programs in higher education to deal with alcohol and sexual violence issues on campus. The content is solid and research based, the language used is inclusive of all audience members, and the strategic use of humor is tastefully done.

Abstinence is addressed as a valid choice in relationships but not presented as a substitute for dealing with the realities of human sexuality and conflict. Nonviolent Sexuality deals with some sensitive issues in an entertaining and interactive manner that students find engaging and fun.

What is unique about Bob Hall is his approach to the confluence of sexuality and conflict as an opportunity for learning and growth, through direct dialogue and better understanding; rather than a struggle of one side against the other, to be won or lost through blaming and finger-pointing. It is this non-adversarial/resolution-oriented approach which has won the approval of both men and women on college campuses nationwide.

of role playing, a touch of humor and a continuous dialogue with his audience, creates a relaxed and interactive atmosphere which serves to lighten the mood and lower defenses toward an area of life which most of us feel uncomfortable discussing.

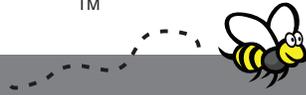

Best of all the program challenges students to take responsibility for the way they think and behave, without preaching or threatening. Non-violence and co-creation are the order of the day as students are invited to think for themselves about who they wish to be and what choices they wish to make in their relationship lives.

Nonviolent Sexuality: Making Peace with Passion

Program Prologue:

The principles behind the program

The 'Program Prologue' on Nonviolent Sexuality: Making Peace with Passion provides a look behind the scenes at the principles behind the program. The research question which informed the development of Nonviolent Sexuality was "What would alcohol and sexual violence education look like, through a lens of nonviolence and 'conflict-literacy' principles? The prologue explores what's involved in effecting real change in student attitudes, beliefs and behaviors around issues of alcohol and sexual violence and articulates the role of nonviolence as the means as well as the ends desired. (45-60 minutes)

First Responders Briefing: On Alcohol & Sexual Violence

As the most likely first responders, Resident Advisors and Public Safety Officers really do need to be familiar with the problem of sexual violence on campus. RA's in particular should be acquainted with potential signs of sexual assault, and equipped with strategies and practical steps for managing the campus rumor mill and serving as an effective bridge into counseling and other support services for students on campus. Public safety attendance at this in-service along with RA's, can dramatically improve the ability of these two groups to work effectively together to support and respond to the variety of sensitive issues which accompany incidents of sexual violence. (45-60 minutes)

Faculty/Staff Briefing: on Alcohol & Sexual Violence

As potential first responders in the campus community, faculty and professional staff can serve as an effective bridge into counseling and other services that survivors of sexual violence may be in need of. This version of Nonviolent Sexuality™ provides faculty and professional staff with an understanding of the problem of sexual violence on campus, a brief glance at solutions and, most importantly, some practical information on how to recognize and support sexual violence survivors. (45-60 minutes)

Class Discussion: Rights & Responsibilities in Relationships

Sexuality and conflict are not subjects that our culture encourages us to think too deeply about, much less talk about openly. But conscious thought and meaningful dialogue are exactly what is required to address problems of sexually transmitted disease, unwanted pregnancy and sexual violence. This interactive dialogue on rights and responsibilities in relationships challenges students to engage in the sometimes awkward but often necessary exercise of communication and decision-making around issues of sexuality and conflict. (45-60 minutes)

Campus Policy/Strategy Discussion: Changing Culture on Campus

As the old adage goes, it's difficult, if not impossible to 'legislate morality.' So how do we go about developing and implementing meaningful initiatives to change student attitudes, beliefs and behaviors around issues of alcohol and sexual violence? This informal discussion addresses what it means to change culture on campus and invites participants to discuss the efficacy of existing campus strategies and policies and to explore new ideas and initiatives. (45-60 minutes)

Learning To Live With Conflict - Seminar Series

“With the splitting of the atom everything has changed save our modes of thinking, and thus we drift toward unparalleled catastrophe.”

- Albert Einstein

Part 1 - Foundations: What everyone needs to know about conflict

Foundations examines our perceptions of conflict in our relationship with self and others, explores the nature of conflict and the characteristics and consequences of common responses to conflict, and presents a paradigm for responding to conflict, which can enable us to utilize conflict productively as an opportunity for learning, growth and personal transformation. The session format combines a lecture-style presentation with role playing, group interaction, and discussion in order to involve participants and to bring the material across in an entertaining and understandable manner. The presentation runs for approximately one hour and is intended to be the first building-block in the development of personal conflict resolution knowledge and skills. This presentation works best with in an informal setting with between 15-75 participants. (45-60 minutes)

Part 2 - Bridges: Building and Maintaining Non-adversarial Relationships

Bridges examines our perceptions of relationships with others and the connection between these perceptions and the manner in which we process conflict and respond to others when conflicts occur. Through lecture-style presentation and group discussion, essential elements of non-adversarial relationships are introduced along with strategies for building and maintaining non-adversarial relationships in a variety of settings. The presentation runs for approximately one hour and is intended to be the second building-block in the development of personal conflict resolution knowledge and skills. This presentation works best with in an informal setting with between 15-75 participants. (45-60 minutes)

Part 3 - Unsustainable Software: Addiction, Violence and Conflict

The United States of America has among the highest rates of homicide and suicide of any nation in the developed world. People in the richest and most powerful nation on earth are killing themselves and each other in record numbers. The U.S. also has among the highest rates of addiction, to alcohol, drugs, food, work, sex, gambling, and spending of any nation in the developed world and is, by far, the leading producer and seller of arms in the world, far surpassing the production of the next ten nations combined. Are all of these facts coincidence, or is there perhaps a common thread linking these seemingly unrelated realities together? “Unsustainable Software” provides a fascinating and provocative inquiry into the connections between some age old realities of the human condition. (45-60 minutes)

Bob Hall is the founder of Learning To Live With Conflict, Inc., a company he established in 1987 to provide education and training in the analysis and resolution of conflict. His academic background includes a Bachelors Degree in Business Administration from the Rochester Institute of Technology and a Masters Degree in Conflict Resolution from Antioch University; as well as a host of informal study and research on sexual violence, human sexuality, addiction, violence, conflict, nonviolence, and Girardian Theory on mimetic rivalry, sacrificial violence, and scapegoating.

Bob's introduction to the conflict field came in 1981 through work he was doing with self-defense education and violence prevention. Bob holds a black belt in judo and has been active in the sport for over 40 years as a competitor, coach, instructor and organizer. Aware of the risks and limitations of traditional fighting approaches to self-defense, Bob co-authored and team-taught a 20-hour classroom course in self-defense education at the Rochester Institute of Technology from 1984-1988. The course was designed to train students in preventing, recognizing, and defusing potentially violent conflicts before they had escalated to violence; as well as to prepare students physically and psychologically for the use of violence as a last resort. Course material was based on his back-ground in judo, and research on current self-defense literature, victimology, and the writings of Mohandas K. Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., on non-violence. In 1986 his focus shifted to work with rape and sexual assault prevention and the broad spectrum of issues surrounding the problem of sexual violence. Over time, Bob's understanding of conflict and violence and his experience in fighting arts and exposure to Gandhi's teachings caused him to embrace non-violence as the defining core principle of his work with conflict; and the only practical answer to the problem of violence. This led to the formation of Learning To Live With Conflict, Inc. in the summer of 1987 under the doctrine that: "A peaceful world is not possible without individual people who see peace as a possibility." Since 1987, Bob Hall has presented Nonviolent Sexuality on over 1000 campuses throughout the United States and Canada and has received virtually unanimous acclaim for his unique use of the tools of conflict resolution.
